to sell the material or promote your gigs so it would be beneficial for you to have another recording there. After you and Tobe left, I had to push to get the lyrics and vocals and rough mix done

It is also difficult for band members to know how many downloads there are (I have already have experienced this). With our previous track record of communication trust is low. Thanks for now...

and pay for the production. I never heard a word from you again (until now), with no communications at all, and now you want to put it on a site where you can gain promotion and make money from it.

Hi Zeb, — forwarded your email. I appreciate you reaching out to say you 'love it' but it's rather a few years all too late. I do not wish to go ahead with the Garden Seat proposal. As the main songwriter and creator of Godiva and driving force behind this creation, I wouldn't be happy nor
